

ABOUT EOLLA

The Empower Online Learning Leadership Academy (EOLLA) is an exciting and challenging professional development programme for university leaders. EOLLA aims to support the needs of both experienced and new and emerging institutional leaders responsible for managing and leading a variety of open, online and flexible learning initiatives in higher education.

WHY PARTICIPATE?

By participating in EOLLA you will have a chance to connect with a range of colleagues from other institutions across Europe. Participants will have an opportunity to share experiences, develop a network with similar professionals and learn from a number of experienced institutional leaders. You will also extend and develop your knowledge of new developments in the area and a toolbox of leadership and strategic planning skills that can be applied within your own institution.

WHO DOES IT TARGET?

The EOLLA programme targets people with leadership responsibility for teaching and learning and the effective use of technology either within faculties or across their entire institution. It will offer something for both new and emerging leaders as well as experienced senior and middle managers. Notably, the group is limited to just 20 participants to ensure a highly interactive programme.

WHAT IS THE MODEL?

The professional development model is designed around the principles of active learning. A variety of activities will engage participants in high-level discussions, creative problem solving and strategic thinking in response to new and emerging models of teaching and learning. A number of real dilemmas, challenging case studies and future scenarios will be explored to better understand how to develop a strategic, research-informed response to both the opportunities and treats facing higher education in an era of rapid change. Importantly, EOLLA provides an opportunity to focus on some of the real issues likely to impact your institution in the future.

Costs

The cost of participating in EOLLA is €495. This registration fee includes advice and mentoring from expert facilitators, access to an online environment with valuable resources, a training certificate, one dinner and all refreshment breaks in the venue in Brussels.

On registration of the EOLLA programme, participants will also be entitled to a discounted registration rate for the annual EADTU conference in October.

Note: the registration fee does not cover travel and hotel accommodation for the workshop in Brussels.

WHAT DOES IT INVOLVE?

The EOLLA programme starts with an Online Primer where you will be introduced to everyone, given access to a number of useful resources and challenged with a case study as preparation for a collaborative small group task.

The Workshop in Brussels involves intensive meetings where besides the main case study each of the facilitators will share an actual example or future scenario raising a number of questions and specific challenges. At the end of the workshop each group will give a brief presentation on their case challenge with proposed action plan to a panel of senior leaders. After the workshop using the online environment over more detailed feedback on the cases will be provided, participants will reflect on and share key lessons, and have access to additional resources.

A team of institutional leaders with a rich variety of leadership experience in open, online and flexible learning will facilitate the programme, including:

- Mark Brown is Director of the National Institute for Digital Learning at Dublin City University, Ireland. Mark is a past President of the New Zealand Association for Open, Distance and Flexible Learning.
- Grainne Conole is a Professor in the United Kingdom with a wealth of research experience in new models of online learning. Grainne is a Fellow of the European e-Learning and Distance Education Network (EDEN).
- Covadonga Rodrigo is Associate Professor at the Department of Computer Systems and Languages at the Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia, Spain. Covadonga was ProVC for Technology at UNED.
- Fred de Vries is programme director Educational Technology at Saxion University of Applied Sciences in Enschede (NL). Fred was policy advisory and Technology Enhance Learning Expert at the Open University of the Netherlands.
