

Expert pool: Curriculum development & Course design

Innovative Distance Education Programs Recently Offered by Anadolu University for Providing Identical Needs of Different Target Groups

Tuesday 14 February

By: Ayse Hepkul, Mehmet Firat (Anadolu University)

Abstract

The Open Education System of Anadolu University has continued to enlarge with the launch of new programs in 2015-2016 academic year: Public Relations and Advertising, Healthcare Management, Social Work, and Management Information Systems, also new associate degree programs in 2015-2016 academic year, i.e. Culinary Arts, Child Development, Medical Documentation and Secretary Training, and Geriatric Care, and in 2016-2017 academic year, Geographic Information Systems and Technologies, and Web Design and Coding. The programs in Civil Aviation Management and International Trade and Logistics Management were established in 2015-2016 academic year in Faculty of Business Administration. In the webinar, of those new programs, specifically information about Web Design and Coding and Geographic Information system programs as technology related programs will be presented with a focus on curriculum design features.